Preparing for Georgia Spring Gun Championship

by Winston Smith

On this overcast and threatening morning, Saturday's match course was set up by Walt Roller and Ken Hughes. An easier match course was designed in preparation for next month's Georgia Spring Gun Championships. By match time, the weather improved and the match was spent shooting in the company of good friends.

Walt Roller shot very well considering he complained about not being able to "hold the crosshairs in the kill zone". Walt was match champion only missing one target (43 of 44). Tommy Garland and Ken Hughes tied for Open Class-First Place. With no shoot-off for First Place, George Gardner took Open Class-Second Place and Doug Vinson secured Open Class-Third Place. Match scores prove that Doug has grown accustomed to his new Pro-Target.

Joel Hansel captured First Place in the Piston Class with a score of 31 of 44 targets. Jeff Drake took Piston Class-Second Place with his R-1, 22 caliber airgun.

Next month's match is the Georgia Spring Gun Championships, so don't bring your "bottle fed" guns. Hope to see everyone in July.

GSR Printing Error

Covington, GA, June 12, 1999

Airgunning Atlanta received a call from Bill Isaac indicating that AA's Newsletter reprinted in AAFTA News, left out important information from the 1999 Georgia Southern Regionals. The Newsletter did not mention Bill Isaac as winner of the Open Class-Second Place award.

Airgunning Atlanta's May (Special Edition) Newsletter highlighted the results of three shoot-off matches determining Overall Match Winner and Open Class-First Place, Open Class-Third and Open Class-Forth Places, and Open Class-Fifth Place and non trophy sixty place.

Since Bill Isaac single handedly took Open Class-Second Place and was not in a shoot-off, his name and results were accidentally left out of the AA Newsletter narrative. Fortunately, his accomplishment was reflected in the match result score chart. Bill, we regret this oversight.
